LESSONS LEARNED

- 1.
- 2.
- 3.

- Work with passion
- Work to improve the quality of lives of others
- The significance of inclusion...of having a seat at the table
- The person most likely to have your back is frequently the person you would least expect

Professor, Vice Chair

To the residents, you're a super hero

Peter: “We don’t get to do many heroic things as an adult”

Lucy: “You give up your seat every day on the train”

Peter: “Well...that’s not heroic”

Lucy: “It is to the person who sits in it”

To the world you may be one person, but to one person you are the world.

FIRST OPINION

Physicians aren't 'burning out.' They're suffering from moral injury

By SIMON G. TALBOT and WENDY DEAN / JULY 26, 2018

“Failing to consistently meet patients’ needs has a profound impact on physician wellbeing—this is the crux of moral injury”

Doctor Peter Galpin

By Diane Ako

KAHULUI (KHNL)- In the operation room of a Maui hospital, a doctor preps his patient for surgery.

This would be a routine procedure for doctor and patient, except this doctor is in a wheelchair.

"I was the first surgeon in the world to go through medical school and surgical training as a paraplegic," explains Dr. Peter Galpin.

Don't just get involved. Fight for your seat at the table. Better yet fight to be at the head of the table

You can always tell who the strong women (and men) are.

They are the ones building each other up, instead of tearing each other down.
